Area Supervise (b)(7)(E) ecommendation Revocation
Details
Based on current and past inspection findings, Revocation is an appropriate recommendation. This is the second compliance inspection in which firearms have been reported missing, and the second inspection in which the licensee has failed to conduct required NICS background checks in accordance with both state and federal laws and regulations. The number of violations overall have increased since the 2010 and 2011 inspections. The licensee attended a Warning Conference in 2010, where cited violations similar to the current violations discussed. Current NICS violations include:
*Failure to conduct a NICS background check (b)(6) added a firearm to a previously certified ATF Form 4473)
*Failure to wait the federally-required 3 days to transfer a firearm following a "Delayed" response from a NICS background check request (b)(6)
*Failure to wait the state-required 30 days to transfer a firearm following a "Delayed" response from NICS background check request ((b)(6)
*Failure to conduct a NICS background check (b)(6) handgun purchase-FFL didn't execute a new check at the time of transfer)
*Failure to complete a NICS background check prior to a firearm transfer (b)(6) Transfer completed 12/22; NICS dated 12/28)
*Failure to execute an ATF Form 4473 prior to a firearm transfer (b)(6) added firearm to an already-executed form)
Industry Operations Investigato (b)(6) Recommendation Revocation
Details ATF has record of two previous inspections for the license since it was issued in 1979. Licensee's compliance history is as follows:
2010 Compliance Inspection (765060-2010-2064)
firearms reported missing recovered to date)
478.125(e)- failure to record dispositions, failure to record six acquisitions.
478.124(b)
478.124(al. instances
478.102(a) instances 478.21(a) instances
478.124(c)(1) instances 478.124(c)(1) instances
2011 Recall Inspection (765060-2011-0417)
No Violations
Thomas and Deborah Carpenter stated to IOI bio that they misunderstood, or were not aware of, numerous Federal Firearms Regulations and State gun laws, even though some violations were repeat violations [478.102(a), 478.125(e), 478.124(c)(1) and 478.124(a)]. The repeat violations and Warning Conference did not fall within the 5 year time frame, however they did occur within the last two compliance inspections. The licensee also stated to IOi (b)(6) that the Federal Firearms Regulations have never been thoroughly explained to him, even though he recalled attending a Warning Conference in New York City in 2010. Although the licensee has not yet transferred a firearm to a prohibited person, the licensee has a history of NICS violations and had an increase in NICS violations within the last two inspections.
Inspection Findings
Records and Forms
1. Failure to timely and/or correctly maintain records of receipt, manufacture, importation or other acquisition of percent or more of the licensee's total acquisitions during the inspection period, with a minimum of instances.
3. Failure by the licensee to obtain complete and accurate information for any item(s) on Forms 4473, questions 11 & 12, or the buyer fails to sign and date the Form 4473 (to include failing to have the buyer recertify their answers if the transfer takes place on a different date than the original signature) in Section A of percent or more of the Forms 4473 examined.
9. Failure to execute a Form 4473 (Exception: Select findings 6, 7, and 8 above for consignment sales, transfers to law enforcement officers for personal use, and FFL responsible persons; if the transferee is NOT prohibited).
Transfer of Firearm
2. Transfer of a firearm prior to receiving a final NICS response (or applicable State POC background check) and 3 business days have not elapsed since the FFL contacted the system and the purchaser is NOT prohibited.
Firearms
1. Missing firearms after inventory reconciliation (e.g., no records of disposition, required or otherwise).

- 4. Failure to conduct a NICS check or obtain an alternate permit (Exception: Select findings 1, 2, and 3 above for consignment sales, transfers to law enforcement officers for personal use, and FFL responsible persons if the transferee is NOT prohibited).
- 6. Failure to initiate a new NICS check when a transaction is not completed within the 30-day period from the date NICS was initially contacted provided that the person is NOT prohibited.

Failure to Report

Municipal Code Enforcement Officer

3. Failure to timely report upon discovery of the theft or loss of a firearm to either ATF or local law enforcement.

Closing Conference Additional Notes

IOI (b)(6) attempted to conduct the closing conference on 6/14/2021 when the Report of Violations was issued, however, Tom and Deborah Carpenter were distracted by the other businesses at the premises and did not have the time or attention to dedicate to a lengthy closing. Tom Carpenter stated to IOI (b)(6) that the regulations had never been explained thoroughly to him in the past. IOI (b)(6) reminded Mr. Carpenter that he had a Warning Conference in 2010 and had signed an Acknowledgement of Regulations during that Inspection. IOI (b)(6) returned to complete the closing inspection on 6/21/2021 when none of the businesses where operating and Thomas, Deborah and (b)(6) Carpenter could be present.

Mr. Carpenter,

The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives (ATF) has made a determination to revoke your Federal firearms license (FFL) 6-14-111-01-3J-08044 as a Dealer of Firearms. Accordingly, you are being provided with a Notice to Revoke or Suspend License and/or Impose a Civil Fine, ATF Form 4500(5300.4).

This letter explains the Notices and Hearing process.

Your Response to the Notice

As indicated on the Notice, you may request a hearing to contest the revocation by submitting a written request to me—the Director of Industry Operations (DIO) at 32 Old Slip Suite 3500 New York, NY 10005—within 15 days from your receipt of the Notice. If you do not request a hearing within 15 days, and/or the request is not received within 15 days, the revocation of your license will become final.

If you submit a letter requesting a hearing, ATF will make appropriate arrangements. ATF regularly conducts hearings in-person. However, due to the COVID-19 pandemic, hearings may also be held virtually, either by videoconference, audio-conference, or by written submission. Please let me know immediately if you will be represented at the hearing so that we can expeditiously schedule the hearing at a time mutually convenient to all parties involved, including your representative.¹ Once the date, time and place are set, ATF will notify you via certified mail. Under limited circumstances, the DIO may reschedule the hearing for good cause.

Prior to the hearing date, you may request a meeting with the DIO to address the violations cited in the Notices. The purpose of the meeting will be to try to resolve this matter without conducting a hearing. While ATF is not obligated to grant such requests, if it does, at or before the meeting, you may submit mitigating facts, arguments, and proposals for settlement for review and consideration. You may also submit offers of potential resolution to the DIO after the hearing, however, the DIO will not entertain settlement offers at the hearing itself.

What to Expect at the Hearing

Under no circumstances may you, your representative, your witnesses, or anyone else, bring firearms or any other weapons to an in-person hearing. The hearing will not begin, or will cease, if it is determined that this policy has been violated. Moreover, the possession of firearms or weapons in a Federal facility is a violation of 18 U.S.C. § 930.

The hearing itself is informal in nature and does not require adherence to civil court rules and formal courtroom procedures. An ATF-hired stenographer will be present to transcribe the hearing; however, there is no sworn testimony.² The resulting transcript, along with the exhibits presented at the hearing, constitute the official record of the hearing. You may order a copy of the transcript at your own expense. You may also make an audio recording of the proceedings or have them recorded by an additional stenographer at your own expense, provided this recording is not disruptive to the proceedings. ATF does not make a video recording of the hearing proceedings. You may not do so either.

The DIO will preside over the hearing and ensure that it occurs in an orderly and professional manner. The primary purpose of the hearing is to give the DIO the opportunity to hear your explanation/argument in response to the proposed licensing action.

During the hearing, ATF, through an attorney, will enter in the official record all evidence establishing the violations cited in the enclosed Notices. The ATF attorney will generally ask the ATF investigator(s) who conducted the inspection, or other ATF employees or witnesses who have relevant information concerning your case, to describe their findings. At the conclusion of the government's presentation, you will have the opportunity to respond. You are encouraged to state your case as clearly and factually as possible. Be willing and prepared to address each violation described in the Notice. You may also present relevant evidence, such as documents, pictures, or witness testimony that tends to show that the violations listed in the Notices did not occur in the manner described.

¹ See 27 C.F.R. § 478.76 for information regarding who may represent you at the hearing.

² False statement made during the hearing are subject to the penalties prescribed under 18 U.S.C. § 1001.

You will have the opportunity to ask questions about any of the evidence that ATF puts on the record, and to question any ATF witnesses about their findings. Similarly, ATF will have the opportunity to ask questions about your evidence, and of your witnesses. When the DIO is satisfied that all evidence and arguments have been fully presented, the DIO will conclude the hearing.

After the Hearing

If after review of the entire record, the DIO concludes that you committed one or more willful violations, the DIO may issue a Final Notice of Revocation, which will be sent to you via certified mail. Similarly, you will be notified if the DIO decides that your FFL should not be revoked. If you are not satisfied with the final decision, you may appeal the decision to federal district court within 60 days. The record of the hearing (including all presented evidence) may become part of the official court record.

Enclosure.

Compliance History

Your business was inspected by the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives (ATF) in 2010 and 2011. As a result of the 2010 inspection, you were cited for the following violations of the GCA and implementing regulations:

As a result of these violations, you were issued a Report of Violations and received instruction and counseling from an ATF Industry Operations Investigator. You subsequently received a letter from ATF reminding you that retention of your FFL is conditioned on compliance with Federal laws and regulations, and that future violations could result in a revocation of your license. On September 1, 2010, you participated in a warning conference with ATF personnel in which the violations were again discussed with you and in which you had an opportunity to ask questions regarding your compliance obligations. You were again reminded that future violations, repeat or otherwise, could result in revocation of your license.

In 2011, you were again inspected by ATF and no violations were discovered, indicating that you were aware your legal obligations under the GCA and implementing regulations, and had the ability to conduct operations in compliance with those obligations.

As of today's date, a request for hearing has not been received.

Findings and Conclusions:

Your business was inspected by the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives (ATF) in 2010 and 2011. As a result of the 2010 inspection, you were cited for the following violations of the Gun Control Act (GCA) and implementing regulations:

27 C.F.R. § 478.125(e)	You failed to record in your Acquisition and Disposition ("A&D") record (i) firearm dispositions, (ii) firearm acquisitions, and (iii) the type of firearm on occasions.
27 C.F.R. § 124(b)	You failed to maintain the ATF Firearms Transaction Record ("F. 4473") in alphabetical, chronological, or numerical order on 28 occasions.
27 C.F.R. § 124(a)	You failed to execute the ATF F. 4473 on occasions involving firearms.
27 C.F.R. § 102(a)	You transferred firearms on five occasions without conducting a National Instant Criminal Background Check System (NICS) background check on the transferee.
27 C.F.R. § 478.21(a)	You failed to complete the ATF F. 4473 or (IN)(1112 Public Law 55 125 Stat 552) occasions.

violations, repeat or otherwise, could result in revocation of your license.

Notwithstanding these prior warnings and your ability to comply, in June of 2020, you accepted handguns into your inventory but failed to make an appropriate entry in you Acquisition and Disposition (A&D) record. In November of 2020, when the customer came to retrieve the firearms, you were unable to locate them in inventory, and reported them missing to the local police department. At this time, roughly five months later, you recorded the acquisition of the firearms in your A&D record. This failure to record the handguns clearly done with plain indifference or a reckless disregard to your known legal obligations.
In March of 2020, when ATF became aware of the loss of inventory, the firearms were found by a family member. However, when ATF personnel reviewed your records and inventory, additional discrepancies were found, including unrecorded dispositions and unrecorded acquisitions, and firearms which could not be located in your inventory and for which you were unable to find records of sale. These firearms were required to be reported missing.
When asked about your record keeping practices, you stated that you would acquire used guns but not always inform your wife so that the artrine could be made in the A&D record. Whatever but not always inform your wife so that the entries could be made in the A&D record. Whatever the cause, it is apparent that your poor record keeping practices were the result of plain indifference to a known legal obligation and that they had a significant impact on public safety as you were unable to properly account for the location and disposition of firearms.

You were also cited for four violations related to the properly conduct a National Instant Criminal Background Check System (NICS) background check, which is a repeat violation from your warning conference in 2010. On one occasion, you added a firearm to a customer's previously completed ATF F. 4473. On one occasion, you transferred a firearm after receiving a

You did not report the loss to ATF, which is required under Federal law.

"delayed" response from NICS. In the remaining two occasions, you transferred firearms on expired NICS checks. While various explanations were provided during the ATF inspection, none of the explanations excuse the conduct or otherwise negate a finding that the conduct was willful. Here too, I find that you acted with plain indifference or recklessly disregarded a known legal obligation with respect to the transfers.

Lastly, you were cited with three counts of transferring firearms in violation of New York State law by disposing of firearms after receiving a "delayed" NICS response, but without waiting 30 days or until a "proceed" response is received. While you stated to ATF personnel that you did not realize that State law superseded the Federal Brady law, you have been repeatedly informed that you must comply with both State and Federal law. Further, the ATF F. 4473 informs you of the requirement to comply with State law, including with respect to firearms transfers after a "delayed" response. Accordingly, I hereby also find that you acted with plain indifference or recklessly disregarded a known legal obligation with respect to the transfers.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Selling Firearms AFTER Revocation, Expiration, or Surrender of an FFL

Former Federal Firearms licensees (FFLs) who continue to sell firearms after the revocation, expiration, or surrender of their license are subject to the same rules as persons who have never been licensed in determining whether they are "engaged in the business" of selling firearms without a license in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 922(a)(I)(A). Accordingly, former licensees who wish to dispose of any remaining business inventory must adhere to the following guidance:

Business inventory must be disposed of by the former FFL in a manner that, objectively, does not constitute being engaged in the business of dealing in firearms using the same facts and circumstances test that would apply to persons who have never been licensed.

The preferred manner of disposition is for the former licensee to:

- Arrange for another FFL to purchase the business inventory (and other assets) of the business; or
- Consign the inventory to another FFL to sell on consignment, or at auction.

Should a former FFL decide against those options, he/she should be aware that future sales - whether from his/her personal firearms collection or otherwise - will be evaluated for a potential violation of 18 U.S.C. § 922(a)(i)(A), just as would occur with a person who had never been licensed.

If a former FFL is disposing of business inventory, the fact that no purchases are made after the date of license revocation, expiration, or surrender does not immunize him/her from potential violations of 18 U.S.C. § 922(a)(l)(A). Instead, business inventory acquired through repetitive purchases while licensed are attributed to the former FFL when evaluating whether subsequent sales constitute engaging in the business of dealing in firearms without a license.

ATF remains committed to assisting former licensees in complying with Federal firearms laws. If you have questions, please contact your local ATF office.
