Please OPPOSE the BATFE's proposal to report multiple sale of certain rifles

Proposed Message:

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Sincerely,

james deguzman

Re: [OMB Number 1140-NEW]

I am not a member of the gun industry (nor of the illegal drug importation and enforcement industry). But I am a U.S. citizen, ultimately affected by the southbound traffic in guns and money and the northbound traffic in dangerous, illegal and addictive drugs from Mexico. Some of that gun traffic is alleged to originate in my state, Virginia, and some of it from the states on our Mexican border, in which this emergency, temporary reporting is planned.

I support the effort to document at least some aspects of sales of weapons in the United States which have been documented to sometimes find their way into Mexico for criminal use.

This reporting seems necessary to fulfill ATF's function, because it will inform the Agency and the government (and interested parties, industry and otherwise) whether border-state sales of this very limited subset of weapons are being accomplished at a rate of more than one buy per seller-buyer pair per 5-day period, or not.

I believe the ATF proposed form ATF3310.12 is a reasonable form to help in that effort. I think the 12 minute estimate of time required to complete this form is quite generous, and may overstate the "regulatory burden" on these specific sellers of these specific guns. In an admittedly un-scientific trial, I filled out one of the draft forms, pretending to "look up" data from scraps of paper on my desk, but actually taking the time to print out numbers and addresses in the various fields of the form, without even using the "rubber stamp" option provided for the gun seller's address. Filling out the form took me 5 minutes, and would have taken less time had I been familiar with the format of serial numbers, and if I had a cooperative buyer with me, with an actual identification document. I estimate it would take a minute more to fax the form, or perhaps two minutes to make a copy and tuck the form in an envelope and address it. So I think an amateur could complete the process in 7 minutes. I trust that ATF agents will observe and time the process when they make controlled "buys" of such weapons to test the program, and can update and refine these numbers as time goes on. But 12 minutes seems generous.

It might be possible to reduce the burden on the reporting FFL if the ATF would experiment with allowing the FFL to satisfy the buyer identification requirement by making a clear, enlarged xerographic copy of the buyer's proffered ID onto a copy of the ATF form, and drawing circles on the copy and linking the circled data to the corresponding data field on the form. This would be a quicker and more accurate transcription of whatever form of ID is presented, and (if quality could be assured) could even provide an image of the buyer. This would enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected. Buyers or sellers who did not wish to permit copying of the ID could fill in the form manually.

re: December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review:
Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

Good Morning,

I am aware the ATF would, understandably, like to take strong steps to help address drug-related violence in Mexico. However, lawlessness in Mexico-driven by multi-billion dollar drug cartels with access to any and all types of arms on the international black markets-is no excuse for U.S. law enforcement agencies to spend scarce resources on programs that exceed their legal powers.

In addition, there are existing controls on importation, manufacture, and distribution to FFL dealers, and laws regulating sales to the public. It would appear that enforcement of existing laws would provide greater benefit than adding an additional level of rules which lend themselves to causing difficulty for the law abiding public and FFL dealers, and minimal effect on illegal markets.

Therefore, OMB should deny ATF's request to approve its proposed collection of information.

Please put me on record against any kind of reporting of the sales of certain rifles as this is one more step on that "slippery slope" in which our nation is now engaged. I'm referring to the Nazi, Hitler and his followers who saw gun control as a means to protect their oppressive rule over the people or their subjects as he loved to refer to them. The following is an excerpt from a speech Hitler made at a dinner talk on April 11, 1942 and reiterates my former reference to Hitler.

"The most foolish mistake we could possible make would be to allow the subject races to possess arms. History shows that all conquerors who have allowed their subject races to carry arms have prepared their own downfall by so doing. Indeed, I would go so far as to say that the supply of arms to the underdogs is a sine qua non for the overthrow of any sovereignty. So let's not have any native militia or native police. German troops alone will bear the sole responsibility for the maintenance of law and order throughout the occupied Russian territories, and a system of military strong-points must be evolved to cover the entire occupied country." – Adolf Hitler, dinner talk on April 11, 1942, quoted in Hitler's Table Talk 1941-44: His Private Conversations, Second Edition (1973), Pg. 425-426. Translated by Norman Cameron and R. H. Stevens. Introduced and with a new preface by H. R. Trevor-Roper. The original German papers were known as Bormann-Vermerke.¹

This is not the kind of land I wish our nation to become and is not in keeping with our constitutional right to bear arms and protect ourselves. I would like to see this reporting stopped.

Respectfully yours,

Re: Federal Register Notice of December 17, 2010 (Volume 75, Number 242, Page 79021), 60-Day Emergency Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to express my concerns on this ATF information collection request to the OMB. The notice proposed an "emergency" requirement that certain federal firearms licensees report multiple sales or other dispositions whenever the licensee sells or otherwise disposes of two or more rifles within any five consecutive business days with the following characteristics:

- (a) Semi automatic;
- (b) a caliber greater than .22; and
- (c) the ability to accept a detachable magazine.

Currently, the OMB has denied the "emergency" request. But regardless of the timeframe in which approval is sought, ATF does not have the statutory authority to impose this requirement on licensees.

The Congress has comprehensively defined what ATF may and may not require with respect to licensees' records. By specifically requiring reports only of multiple handgun sales, Congress implicitly rejected the idea of requiring reports on multiple sales of other firearms. ATF seemed to understand that point when it responded in October to a recommendation for multiple long gun sales reporting by the Department of Justice Inspector General. ATF's comment on that recommendation was that it would "explore the full range of options" but that such a requirement "may require a change to the Gun Control Act."

Now, from what I read, these reports will be requested through "demand letters"—a mechanism that for many years had been used only to conduct firearm traces, to obtain aggregate manufacturing statistics, or to obtain contact information for buyers of certain firearms later declared to be subject to the National Firearms Act. Even when ATF began to use demand letters to seek a broader range of firearm transaction records, one court upholding that program cautioned that the demand letter statute "is not a limitless delegation of authority" and "cannot be construed in an open-ended fashion."

The scope of the proposed collection suggests in itself that the proposal exceeds ATF's statutory authority. The Fourth Circuit stressed that the letter at issue in the RSM case was sent to only 41 licensees out of the 80,000 licensees in the United States. A second type of demand letter was sent to only 450 dealers nationwide. Now, ATF proposes to issue demand letters to approximately 8,500 licensees. That estimate appears to be based on the total number of licensed dealers and pawnbrokers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas. If so, nearly one out of seven firearm retailers in the United States would receive demand letters for multiple rifle sales.

The burden estimate in the proposal appears to assume that each licensee subject to a demand letter will respond once during the proposed duration of the program. Given the great variety in size and sales volume among the thousands of licensees in the border states, this seems unlikely. Even if the burden estimate in the proposal is correct, it is unclear how ATF could make effective use of the large number of reports that would be generated. Recent media reports suggest that ATF is already unable to handle dealers' voluntary, real-time reports of possible "straw purchases." If processing thousands of additional mandatory reports takes even more resources away from investigating these suspicious transactions, the proposed information collection may be more harmful than helpful.

I am well aware that the United States would like to take strong steps to address drug-related violence in Mexico. But lawlessness in Mexico—driven by multi-billion dollar drug cartels with access to any and all types of arms on international black markets—is no excuse for U.S. law enforcement agencies to spend scarce resources on programs that exceed their legal powers.

Therefore I believe the OMB should deny ATF's request to approve its proposed collection of information.

Madam or Sir,

I am sending you this email in reference to the December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

The DOJ - ATF Federal Register Notice says that, as a member of the public, I am asked to comment on the following points. My comments are in red:

—Evaluate whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the agency, including whether the information will have practical utility;

I understand that the ATF has undertaken massive efforts to stem the suspected flow of weapons across the US border to Mexico and would like to create another way of looking for this flow of weapons. This flow does not exist. The drug dealers in Mexico have no need to buy SEMI-Automatic weapons in the US when they can purchase fully automatic weapons from the Mexican Army or their weapons suppliers. In addition, this information could be the beginning of an ATF effort to create an unauthorized weapons purchased data base that the Congress has NOT authorized. This is NOT a proper function of the ATF agency. For this reason, the request should be denied.

—Evaluate the accuracy of the agencies estimate of the burden of the proposed collection of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;

The agency has estimated that only 1,696 hours of business time will be required to accomplish the collection of this information. Excuse me, 1,696 hours to FILL OUT THE FORMS FOR THE ATF to accomplish the collection of this information. Plus ANY time spent on researching this request and, if extended after the initial request, many more hours to try to keep track of these purchases. I suggest that the estimate of the burden created by this proposal is grossly underestimated and this request should be denied.

—Enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and

From my two previous comments, any additional proposal to "enhance the ... information to be collected" would just increase the onerousness of this proposal. This request should be denied and NO enhancement should occur.

—Minimize the burden of the collection of information on those who are to respond, including through the use of appropriate automated, electronic, mechanical, or other technological collection techniques or other forms of information technology, e.g., permitting electronic submission of responses.

Minimizing the burden would be nice IF the burden were to produce any legal, appropriate and effective information. The best minimization is the rejection of this request.

Clearly, I think this request is out of order and should be denied by the OMB. Thank you for giving attention to this comment.

Sincerely,

Re: Federal Register Notice of December 17, 2010 (Volume 75, Number 242, Page 79021), 60-Day Emergency Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to offer my comments on this Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives

(ATF) information collection request to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB).

The notice proposed an "emergency" requirement that certain federal firearms licensees report multiple sales or other dispositions whenever the licensee sells or otherwise disposes of two or more rifles within any five consecutive business days with the following characteristics:

- (a) Semi automatic;
- (b) a caliber greater than .22; and
- (c) the ability to accept a detachable magazine.

Now, the OMB has denied the "emergency" request. But regardless of the timeframe in which approval is sought, ATF does not have the statutory authority to impose this requirement on licensees. The reasons for that lack of authority are many; but in short, the Congress has comprehensively defined what ATF may and may not require with respect to licensees' records. By specifically requiring reports only of multiple handgun sales, Congress implicitly rejected the idea of requiring reports on multiple sales of other firearms. ATF seemed to understand that point when it responded in October to a recommendation for multiple long gun sales reporting by the Department of Justice Inspector General. ATF's comment on that recommendation was that it would "explore the full range of options" but that such a requirement "may require a change to the Gun Control Act."

These reports will be requested through "demand letters"—a mechanism that for many years had been used only to conduct firearm traces, to obtain aggregate manufacturing statistics, or to obtain contact information for buyers of certain firearms later declared to be subject to the National Firearms Act. Even when ATF began to use demand letters to seek a broader range of firearm transaction records, one court upholding that program cautioned that the demand letter statute "is not a limitless delegation of authority" and "cannot be construed in an open-ended fashion."

The scope of the proposed collection suggests in itself that the proposal exceeds ATF's statutory authority. The Fourth Circuit stressed that the letter at issue in the RSM case was sent to only 41 licensees out of the 80,000 licensees in the United States. A second type of demand letter was sent to only 450 dealers nationwide. Now, ATF proposes to issue demand letters to approximately 8,500 licensees.

That estimate appears to be based on the total number of licensed dealers and pawnbrokers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas. If so, nearly one out of seven firearm retailers in the United States would receive demand letters for multiple rifle sales.

The burden estimate in the proposal appears to assume that each licensee subject to a demand letter will respond once during the proposed duration of the program. Given the great variety in size and sales volume among the thousands of licensees in the border states, this seems unlikely. Even if the burden estimate in the proposal is correct, it is unclear how ATF could make effective use of the large number of reports that would be generated. Recent media reports suggest that ATF is already unable to handle dealers' voluntary, real-time reports of possible "straw purchases." If processing thousands of additional mandatory reports takes even more resources away from investigating these suspicious transactions, the proposed information collection may be more harmful than helpful.

I am well aware that ATF would, understandably, like to take strong steps to address drug-related violence in Mexico. But lawlessness in Mexico—driven by multi-billion dollar drug cartels with access to any and all types of arms on the international black markets—is no excuse for U.S. law enforcement agencies to spend scarce resources on programs that exceed their legal powers and infringe on the rights of the citizens of these United States.

Therefore, OMB should deny ATF's request to approve its proposed collection of information.

Re: Federal Register Notice of December 17, 2010 (Volume 75, Number 242, Page 79021), 60-Day Emergency Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing as member of the National Rifle Association of America (NRA) and a concerned U.S. citizen, to offer my condemnation of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (ATF) information collection request to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB). The notice proposed an "emergency" requirement that certain federal firearms licensees report multiple sales or other dispositions whenever the licensee sells or otherwise disposes of two or more rifles within any five consecutive business days with the following characteristics: (a) Semi automatic; (b) a caliber greater than .22; and (c) the ability to accept a detachable magazine.

Now, the OMB has denied the "emergency" request. But regardless of the timeframe in which approval is sought, ATF does not have the statutory authority to impose this requirement on licensees. It is a total waste of resources and goes well beyond any limits of authority by the ATF. Please see that this disregard for proper authority is not supported in any way.

Thank you for your responsible handling of this matter in advance.

Sincerely,

Denny A. Evans

Subject: IOPPOSE the BATFE's proposal to report multiple sale of certain rifles
Date: Friday, February 11, 2011 10:53:54 AM

I oppose the creation of the de facto firearms registration scheme detailed in the “Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles.”

This proposed regulation is directly contrary to the provisions of Title 18 United States Code § 923(g)(3)(A) which states:

(3)(A) Each licensee shall prepare a report of multiple sales or other dispositions whenever the licensee sells or otherwise disposes of, at one time or during any five consecutive business days, two or more pistols, or revolvers, or any combination of pistols and revolvers totaling two or more, to an unlicensed person. The report shall be prepared on a form specified by the Attorney General and forwarded to the office specified thereon and to the department of State police or State law enforcement agency of the State or local law enforcement agency of the local jurisdiction in which the sale or other disposition took place, not later than the close of business on the day that the multiple sale or other disposition occurs.

Clearly, the requirements of 18 USC 923(g)(3)(A) apply only to handguns, not semi-automatic rifles or any other classification of firearm.

The proposed regulation also violates Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a) which states:

Sec. 926. Rules and regulations

(a) The Attorney General may prescribe only such rules and regulations as are necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter, including--

(1) regulations providing that a person licensed under this chapter, when dealing with another person so licensed, shall provide such other licensed person a certified copy of this license;

(2) regulations providing for the issuance, at a reasonable cost, to a person licensed under this chapter, of certified copies of his license for use as provided under regulations issued under paragraph (1) of this subsection; and

(3) regulations providing for effective receipt and secure storage of firearms relinquished by or seized from persons described in subsection (d)(8) or (g)(8) of section 922.

No such rule or regulation prescribed after the date of the enactment of the Firearms Owners' Protection Act may require that records required to be maintained under this chapter or any portion of the contents of such records, be recorded at or transferred to a facility owned, managed, or controlled by the United States or any State or any political subdivision thereof, nor that any system of registration of firearms, firearms owners, or firearms transactions or dispositions be established. Nothing in this section expands or restricts the Secretary's authority to inquire into the disposition of any firearm in the course of a criminal investigation.

Clearly, this proposed regulation and its record keeping and reporting requirements is directly contrary to be the prohibition "... that any system of registration of firearms, firearms owners, or firearms transactions or dispositions be established. Moreover, the proposal obtains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal.

The problems in Mexico related to drug cartel violence are just that: Mexico's problem. Contrary to the assertions that the drug-fueled violence in Mexico is a result of firearms being smuggled from the US into Mexico, people in the United States do not have access to the machine guns, grenades, rocket-propelled grenades, and explosives being used by the cartels. These weapons are shown to be from illicit sources elsewhere in the Americas, including Mexico, including firearms illegally diverted from shipments of firearms provided by the United States Government to other nations' military and police forces.

"As we have stated here before, the BATFE is looking to register semi-automatic rifles using the excuse of stopping guns flowing to Mexico. This mandate will affect all semi-automatic rifles larger than .22 caliber and with a detachable magazine. This is supposed to affect only the southwestern states, but it will be a short step to force all states to apply, resulting in back door registration of semi-automatic rifles."

Is this statement true?
If so, this is unacceptable behavior.

Subject: Multiple ATF long gun reporting
Date: Sunday, February 13, 2011 9:57:16 PM

Regarding the report of multiple long gun sales to the Bureau of Alcohol Tobacco Firearms and Explosives, December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles.", I take exception to this proposed change in policy.

It has been law for some time that multiple sales of handguns must be reported to the B.A.T.F.E., but I have heard nothing of gun traffickers being arrested or stopped as a result of this law. I don't see why there would be anymore results tracking long guns in the same manner. Common Sense tells us rather than have 1 person buy 5 guns, straw purchasers could simply have 5 people buy one gun each.

I also question why it is the job of the United States to safeguard Mexico. Even if we took this for granted, the original report used by the Brookings Institute to claim that 90% of Mexican crime guns came from the U.S. has been shown to be false. Only 17% of guns seized by Mexican authorities were actually traced to America. Also, the Mexican military uses some Colt M4s, Remington, and Mossberg long guns, which are taken by deserters who "defect" to the drug cartels with their American-made, government issued firearms, meaning even less than 17% of guns are smuggled from the U.S. south of the border.

The same report that revealed that the drug cartels smuggled guns from South Korea, China, Spain, Israel, Russia, and South America, especially Guatemala. No measures taken in the United States can stop these other sources of arms. To my knowledge, no such measures have been proposed. Remember, the cartels' entire business is smuggling and building supply lines to the north. They can move arms as easily as they can move cocaine or marijuana.

Placing additional restrictions on law abiding American gun owners is bad enough. Doing so for the benefit of another nation is outrageous. Realizing that this will actually do nothing to help this other nation is unconscionable.

If America must do something about the arms flow moving southward, why not secure our border crossings? This addresses the problem directly without onerous regulations on people never proven to be responsible for another country's problems in the first place.

Subject - Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles

Dear Madam/Sir,

Will our Government never learn that the evil people of this world, those that ignore all rules and regulations, pay no heed whatsoever to edicts coming out of Washington, except perhaps to occasionally move their operations deeper underground.

I am indeed dismayed to read the December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles", to be enforced in the border states. It is simply more bureaucratic, paper pushing intended to make it appear that 'someone is doing something' and will certainly have almost zero impact on illegal sales.

At a time when budget deficits are on everyone's mind and thousands of sincere people are working very hard to find ways to cut spending, the BATF continues to spend in its usual haphazard manner.

Why not devote more of available funds to training; or upgrading to more sophisticated equipment - or adding man hours devoted to enforcing the many existing BATF regulations.

Why does the BATF insist on following the same time tested, oft failed pattern of 'throwing money at it'. New regulations cost money, and they do not catch the bad guys - well trained agents on the ground with state-of-the-art equipment do.

Please get BATF out of our legislative halls and courtrooms, and back into the field where they belong.

America will appreciate you.

Sincerely yours,

Lewis Sponagle

In Reference to the December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to offer my comments on this Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (ATF) information collection request to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB).

The notice proposed an "emergency" requirement that certain federal firearms licensees report multiple sales or other dispositions whenever the licensee sells or otherwise disposes of two or more rifles within any five consecutive business days with the following characteristics: (a) Semi automatic; (b) a caliber greater than .22; and (c) the ability to accept a detachable magazine.

Now, the OMB has denied the "emergency" request. But regardless of the timeframe in which approval is sought, ATF does not have the statutory authority to impose this requirement on licensees.

The reasons for that lack of authority are, the Congress has comprehensively defined what ATF may and may not require with respect to licensees' records. By specifically requiring reports only of multiple handgun sales, Congress implicitly rejected the idea of requiring reports on multiple sales of other firearms. ATF seemed to understand that point when it responded in October to a recommendation for multiple long gun sales reporting by the Department of Justice Inspector General. ATF's comment on that recommendation was that it would "explore the full range of options" but that such a requirement "may require a change to the Gun Control Act."

1 These reports will be requested through "demand letters"—a mechanism that for many years had been used only to conduct firearm traces, to obtain aggregate manufacturing statistics, or to obtain contact information for buyers of certain firearms later declared to be subject to the National Firearms Act. Even when ATF began to use demand letters to seek a broader range of firearm transaction records, one court upholding that program cautioned that the demand letter statute "is not a limitless delegation of authority" and "cannot be construed in an open-ended fashion."

2 The scope of the proposed collection suggests in itself that the proposal exceeds ATF's statutory authority. The Fourth Circuit stressed that the letter at issue in the RSM case was sent to only 41 licensees out of the 80,000 licensees in the United States.

3 A second type of demand letter was sent to only 450 dealers nationwide.

4 Now, ATF proposes to issue demand letters to approximately 8,500 licensees.

That estimate appears to be based on the total number of licensed dealers and pawnbrokers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas. If so, nearly one out of seven firearm retailers in the United States would receive demand letters for multiple rifle sales.

The burden estimate in the proposal appears to assume that each licensee subject to a demand letter will respond once during the proposed duration of the program. Given the great variety in size and sales volume among the thousands of licensees in the border states, this seems unlikely.

Even if the burden estimate in the proposal is correct, it is unclear how ATF could make effective use of the large number of reports that would be generated. Recent media reports suggest that ATF is already unable to handle dealers' voluntary, real-time reports of possible "straw purchases."⁵ If processing thousands of additional mandatory reports takes even more resources away from investigating these suspicious transactions, the proposed information collection may be more harmful than helpful.

Lawlessness in Mexico—driven by multi-billion dollar drug cartels with access to any and all types of arms on the international black markets—is no excuse for U.S. law enforcement agencies to spend scarce resources on programs that exceed their legal powers.

Therefore, OMB should deny ATF's request to approve its proposed collection of information.

Ms. Terrell,

This blatant attempt to over-regulate "certain rifles" is an obvious attempt to make their sale too costly and too onerous for lawful dealers. This kind of ruse is EXACTLY why Americans are rising up against the Federal Government and the Obama Administration in particular. Stop this excessive, unlawful and unnecessary reporting requirement, before it starts.

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

I would like to OPPOSE ATF's demand to require all of the 8,500 firearm dealers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas to report all sales of two or more semiautomatic rifles within five consecutive business days, if the rifles are larger than .22 caliber and use detachable magazines for the following reasons. Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

1. The ATF has no legal authority to demand these reports, and the flood of new paperwork will waste scarce law enforcement resources that should be spent on legitimate investigations.
2. ATF claims to be limiting its request to states on the southern border however its proposed rule indicates no such limitation.
3. This requirement would place an excessive burden on firearms dealers.
4. ATF has required multiple handgun sales reporting for a number of years; however there is no indication that this reporting requirement has had any law enforcement value.
5. This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.
6. The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).
7. Since the agencies inception the ATF has engaged in numerous activities that have earned them the contempt of the American people in general and the firearms community in particular. A few examples are cited below.
 - a. 1990's The ATF and other Federal Law Enforcement Agencies engaged in a number of racist white-only gatherings known as "Good O' Boy Roundups"
 - b. 1992 ATF instigated the Ruby Ridge raid which resulted in Randy Weaver's 14 year old son being shot to death in the back, and Randy Weaver's unarmed wife being shot to death while standing in the door of her home.
 - c. 1993 ATF instigated the siege of the Branch Davidian Church compound outside Waco Texas resulting in the deaths of 76 Branch Davadians including more than 20 women and children. As a symbol of their victory the ATF raised their ATF Flag over the burned out Davadian compound.
 - d. 1994 The ATF trashes the home of a Gun Show promoter, and to demonstrate their authority a Female ATF agent stomped a kitten to death.
 - e. 2008 Mr. David Olofsan loaned a legal semiautomatic AR15 style rifle to a friend. The rifle malfunctioned and slam fired several rounds. ATF charger Olofson with transferring a machine gun. Mr. Olofsan is still in prison.

f.2009-2011Project Gunwalker. The ATF The ATF allowed/authorized/encouraged multiple Licensed Firearms dealers to sell multiple AR/AK type rifles to persons believed to be trafficking guns to the Mexican Cartels It is currently believed that more than 3,000 of these rifles were involved. In December of 2010 Border Patrol Agent Brian Terry was murdered by Mexican bandits on U.S. soil near the Mexican border. Two rifles found at the scene of his murder are believed to be among the above 3000.

2) Federal Register Notice of December 17, 2010 (Volume 75, Number 242, Page 79021), 60-Day Emergency Notice of Information Collection Activities: Proposed collection, comments requested

To Whom It May Concern:

I offer my comments on this Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (ATF) information collection request to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB).

The notice proposed an "emergency" requirement that certain federal firearms licensees report multiple sales or other dispositions whenever the licensee sells or otherwise disposes of two or more rifles within any five consecutive business days with the following characteristics: (a) Semi automatic; (b) a caliber greater than .22; and (c) the ability to accept a detachable magazine.

Now, the OMB has denied the "emergency" request. But regardless of the timeframe in which approval is sought, ATF does not have the statutory authority to impose this requirement on licensees.

Congress has comprehensively defined what ATF may and may not require with respect to licensees' records. By specifically requiring reports only of multiple handgun sales, Congress implicitly rejected the idea of requiring reports on multiple sales of other firearms. The BATF seemed to understand that point when it responded in October to a recommendation for multiple long gun sales reporting by the Department of Justice Inspector General. ATF's comment on that recommendation was that it would "explore the full range of options" but that such a requirement "may require a change to the Gun Control Act."¹

These reports will be requested through "demand letters"—a mechanism that for many years had been used only to conduct firearm traces, to obtain aggregate manufacturing statistics, or to obtain contact information for buyers of certain firearms later declared to be subject to the National Firearms Act. Even when ATF began to use demand letters to seek a broader range of firearm transaction records, one court upholding that program cautioned that the demand letter statute "is not a limitless delegation of authority" and "cannot be construed in an open-ended fashion."²

The scope of the proposed collection suggests in itself that the proposal exceeds ATF's statutory authority. The Fourth Circuit stressed that the letter at issue in the RSM case was sent to only 41 licensees out of the 80,000 licensees in the United States.³ A second type of demand letter was sent to only 450 dealers nationwide.⁴ Now, ATF proposes to issue demand letters to approximately 8,500 licensees.

Recent media reports suggest that ATF is already unable to handle dealers' voluntary, real-time reports of possible "straw purchases."⁵ If processing thousands of additional mandatory reports takes even more resources away from investigating these suspicious transactions, the proposed information collection may be more harmful than helpful.

I am well aware that ATF would, understandably, like to take strong steps to address drug-related violence in Mexico. But lawlessness in Mexico—driven by multi-billion dollar drug cartels with access to any and all types of arms on the international black markets—is no excuse for U.S. law enforcement agencies to spend scarce resources on programs that exceed their legal powers.

Therefore, OMB should deny ATF's request to approve its proposed collection of information. If you have any questions about my comments, please do not hesitate to contact my office.

STRATFOR is a highly respected, private intelligence gathering and analysis organization. Its services are used extensively by industry and are included in the President's daily briefing. They have just released a study on the myth of how many guns come from the United States. According to STRATFOR:

"There has clearly been a long and well-documented history of arms smuggling across the U.S.-Mexico border, but it is important to recognize that, while the United States is a significant source of certain classes of weapons and ammunition, it is by no means the source of 90 percent of the weapons used by the Mexican cartels, as is commonly asserted."

In the face of false and misleading information released by the Obama Administration about where Mexico gets weapons, I thought you may be interested in this. The link to their article is immediately below:

Dear ATF,

As a recently retired US Air Force officer, I would request that you oppose the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles" as this is an unnecessary regulation and to be blunt, not allowed under federal law. Title 18. U.S.C. 923(g) (3) (A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except handguns. The regulation contains no provisions for such and is therefore not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. 923(g) (3) (A).

Furthermore, the regulation contains no provisions what-so-ever for the destruction of collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 19 U.S.C. 926 (A).

If your organization would contact DIA HQ or the CIA or FBI (if you do not have the numbers please let me know and will send to you), you will find out what we in the military intelligence have known for years; the vast majority of the weapons coming into Mexico are from two major sources: 1) US military sales to Mexico military in which the Mexican Army deserters have taken their weapons and sold them to the various drug factions operating in Mexico or the Mexican police selling them to the drug factions/groups, and 2) arms from Russia, China and North Korea make up about 91% of the illegal arms coming into Mexico through Venezuela by ship to various ports in Central America and/or by planes into various landing strips in southern Mexico.

I find it somewhat disconcerting that such an organization like yours would even contemplate such illegal actions; this is still America and not some third world republic otherwise everything I have gone through for 25 years means nothing. I am officially requesting an reply to your actions in this matter.

Ladies and Gentlemen,

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

The reason for this new attack on American gun rights is drug related Mexican violence. That's ridiculous. Most of the drug cartel weapons are fully automatic or "destructive devises" that are shipped dirrectly into Mexican or other South American ports. Or acquired from Mexican Law Enforcement and Military. The trickle of straw purchase or stolen weapons going south is nothing compared to the flood of criminals, drugs, and really dangerous weapons coming north.

I urge you to OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

I have two reasons why this should be denied:

First:

This is an unnecessary regulation which is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Second:

As the proposal is written, it states that all firearms chambered for any cartridge over .22 caliber will need the multiple sales report, but this is a badly written classification. In a letter to Barbara Terrell at ATF, I had submitted that since there is no qualification of cartridge and projectile diameter, any and all cartridges over .218" diameter could be construed to be "Over .22 diameter, as the .22 Magnum RIMFIRE cartridge is .224, and the 5.56mm NATO/.223 Remington is, indeed .223. So by their own false and badly written classification the 5.56/.223 would not require a report, or any .22 RIMFLRE rifle would. There are approximately 260~290 cartridges that would- or could- fall into this classification, subject to the whim of a beurocrat at ATF o decide if a dealer has followed the rules or not.

Laws do matter, and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal should NOT be approved, especially when considering the FBI information on seized firearms, and traces, wherein less than 3% of all firearms seized in Mexico actually came from retail sources within the U.S.A.

I wish to express my opposition to the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Dear Ms. Terrell,

Please be advised that I am a U.S. citizen, born & raised in this country!

I am adamantly opposed to any additional regulation imposed upon the citizens of this country.

I make specific reference to your attempt, BATFE's, to mandate the "Reporting of Multiple Sales or Other Disposition of Semi-Automatic Rifles Larger Than .22 Caliber Sold Along Certain Southern Border States."

This proposal is being put forth under the guise of stopping the flow of firearms to Mexico.

Until Mexico cleans up the corruption in its own government, military, law enforcement & eliminates the multi-billion dollar drug trade & pay offs, the gun trafficking & killings will continue!

It is not up to the U.S. government or the U.S taxpayers to "fix" Mexico's problems!

I believe the BATFE's proposed regulation is unnecessary & not allowed under Federal law. It is my belief that Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Dear Office of Management and Budget,

As a concerned citizen, I suggest you OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is also not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved, both because it violates existing law, and because it wastes taxpayer funds alienating law abiding citizens. Please, dedicate the money to increasing the incentives for border agents!

Dear Ms. Terrell:

On behalf of myself and my extended family, I respectfully request your clear-sighted examination of this issue. We believe that after examination of the facts and negative consequences of creeping increases in regulation you will oppose any addition to the processes currently in place for approval and tracking of firearm sales.

Increasing the level of regulation in the United States will not make guns less available anywhere in the world. It will only make them less available and more expensive for law-abiding Americans.

Contrary to popular perception, firearms are a relatively low-tech commodity. As you are aware, they have been made by hand for hundreds of years and mass produced at very low cost for at least 150 years. The technology required has decreased from a basic milling machine to make the 1911 to basic stamping to make the AK-47 to an injection molder to make many modern guns. Criminals and despots are always able to find a source for the things we try to make illegal. Making their own guns will simply be another high-profit criminal industry.

Specifically regarding the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles," your opposition is requested on principle, because it will not be effective and because it will have negative consequences in the long run.

The additional arguments below are borrowed from a more legally-informed source. Please do not feel like you are being hit with another form letter; I am just not able to improve on their wording.

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws and regulations do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Sincerely,

Timothy R. Chandler

Subject: Please OPPOSE the BATFE's proposal to report multiple sale of certain rifles
Date: Friday, February 11, 2011 9:12:30 AM

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Sincerely,

Rick Hargrove

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Sincerely,

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Sincerely,
Kevin Lamb

RE: December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives is demanding the authority to require all of the 8,500 firearm dealers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas to report all sales of two or more semiautomatic rifles within five consecutive business days, if the rifles are larger than .22 caliber and use detachable magazines. For example, a dealer would have to tell the government every time a deer hunter in Sacramento or Amarillo finds a good deal on a pair of semi-auto .30-06s like the popular Remington 7400.

The ATF has no legal authority to demand these reports, and the flood of new paperwork will waste scarce law enforcement resources that should be spent on .

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

Subject: Please OPPOSE the BATFE's proposal to report multiple sale of certain rifles
Date: Monday, February 14, 2011 9:29:54 AM

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Respectfully,

Re: Federal Register Notice of December 17, 2010 (Volume 75, Number 242, Page 79021), 60-Day Emergency Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing as a private citizen to offer comments on this Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (ATF) information collection request to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB).

The notice proposed an "emergency" requirement that certain federal firearms licensees report multiple sales or other dispositions whenever the licensee sells or otherwise disposes of two or more rifles within any five consecutive business days with the following characteristics: (a) Semi automatic; (b) a caliber greater than .22; and (c) the ability to accept a detachable magazine.

I understand that the OMB has denied the "emergency" request. However, regardless of the timeframe in which approval is sought, the National Rifle Association (NRA) and other parties have argued convincingly that ATF does not have the statutory authority to impose this requirement on licensees. In addition, the flood of new paperwork will waste scarce law enforcement resources that might be better used for legitimate investigations.

The unfortunate drug-related violence in Mexico, involving wealthy drug cartels that are likely to have access to every imaginable type of firearm via international black markets, is no reason to increase reporting and surveillance on legitimate rifle purchases by U.S. citizens in their own country.

I respectfully submit that OMB should deny ATF's request to approve its proposed collection of information.

Sincerely Yours,

Marius S. Vassiliou, PhD

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a). Will any such list lead to a violation of the 4th Amendment? It reads: "The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no Warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by Oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized." Will this regulation violate the 2nd Amendment? It reads: "A well regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed." The key phrase here is "the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed" with the meaning of infringed being "to encroach or trespass upon."

Because we are a Republic, we are built upon the Rule of Law and not the Rule of Decree. Any requirement such as the one being proposed should be done by elected representatives of the people and not appointed persons within the Executive Branch of Government.

Both laws and the US Constitution do matter. This unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

MB Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs
Attention: Department of Justice Desk Officer
Washington, DC 20503

Re: The December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

I am writing as a private citizen in support of the National Rifle Association of America, Inc. (NRA), to concur with and forward their comments on this Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (ATF) information collection request to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB). What follows in quotes below is an edited version of the letter from Christopher Cox of that organization.

"The notice proposed an "emergency" requirement that certain federal firearms licensees report multiple sales or other dispositions whenever the licensee sells or otherwise disposes of two or more rifles within any five consecutive business days with the following characteristics: (a) Semi automatic; (b) a caliber greater than .22; and (c) the ability to accept a detachable magazine.

Now, the OMB has denied the "emergency" request. But regardless of the timeframe in which approval is sought, ATF does not have the statutory authority to impose this requirement on licensees. Congress has comprehensively defined what ATF may and may not require with respect to licensees' records. By specifically requiring reports only of multiple handgun sales, Congress implicitly rejected the idea of requiring reports on multiple sales of other firearms. ATF seemed to understand that point when it responded in October to a recommendation for multiple long gun sales reporting by the Department of Justice Inspector General. ATF's comment on that recommendation was that it would "explore the full range of options" but that such a requirement "may require a change to the Gun Control Act."

These reports will be requested through "demand letters"—a mechanism that for many years had been used only to conduct firearm traces, to obtain aggregate manufacturing statistics, or to obtain contact information for buyers of certain firearms later declared to be subject to the National Firearms Act. Even when ATF began to use demand letters to seek a broader range of firearm transaction records, one court upholding that program cautioned that the demand letter statute "is not a limitless delegation of authority" and "cannot be construed in an open-ended fashion."

The scope of the proposed collection suggests in itself that the proposal exceeds ATF's statutory authority. The Fourth Circuit stressed that the letter at issue in the RSM case was sent to only 41 licensees out of the 80,000 licensees in the United States. A second type of demand letter was sent to only 450 dealers nationwide.

Now, ATF proposes to issue demand letters to approximately 8,500 licensees. That estimate appears to be based on the total number of licensed dealers and pawnbrokers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas. If so, nearly one out of seven firearm retailers in the United States would receive demand letters for multiple rifle sales.

The burden estimate in the proposal appears to assume that each licensee subject to a demand letter will respond once during the proposed duration of the program. Given the great variety in size and sales volume among the thousands of licensees in the border states, this seems unlikely.

Even if the burden estimate in the proposal is correct, it is unclear how ATF could make effective use of the large number of reports that would be generated. Recent media reports suggest that ATF is already unable to handle dealers' voluntary, real-time reports of possible "straw purchases." If processing thousands of additional mandatory reports takes even more resources away from investigating these suspicious transactions, the proposed information collection may be more harmful than helpful.

The NRA is well aware that ATF would, understandably, like to take strong steps to address drug-related violence in Mexico. But lawlessness in Mexico—driven by multi-billion dollar drug cartels with access to any and all types of arms on the international black markets—is no excuse for U.S. law enforcement agencies to spend scarce resources on programs that exceed their legal powers. Therefore, OMB should deny ATF's request to approve its proposed collection of information. "

Subject: Proposed regulations to report multiple sale of certain rifles
Date: Saturday, February 12, 2011 10:21:09 AM

Dear Sirs

It has come to my attention that the BATF is proposing new regulations to register rifles in the Southwestern States in violation of Federal Statutes. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns. The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

In a nation ruled by laws, not dictators, adherence to the law by those charged with enforcing those laws matters even more than having it's citizens obey the law. For if any government agency goes rouge and violates the laws passed by the representatives of the people, it loses all credibility. Without credibility the agency will be ignored, scorned and ridiculed by the citizenry. It is then force into a downward spiral of ever harsher and draconian enforcement tactics. While attempting to create a crisis to try and justify these actions only create contempt for those attempting an end run around the law or worse, ignoring it.

I therefore respectfully ask you to reconsider any attempt to register semi-automatic rifles in the Southwestern states or any other region in the country.

Sincerely

I oppose the proposed regulation to require certain Federal Firearm License holders in certain states in the Southwestern United States to report the multiple sales of long arms such as rifles to the same individual. This proposed regulation is unnecessary and there is no authority for this regulation under current law. Quit trying to expand regulations and just enforce the current law. We already have too many government regulations. Thank you.

Subject: Proposed semi-auto rifle reporting: OPPOSE
Date: Friday, February 11, 2011 8:17:23 PM

Folks,

I am writing in strong opposition to this proposed regulation requiring the reporting and/or registration of the sale of more than one semi-automatic rifle to a person. The proposed regulation is ridiculous and will do nothing whatsoever to "stop crime" any more than Washington, DC's or Chicago, IL's gun laws have stopped crime in those cities. It will only put further burden on law-abiding citizens who enjoy firearms and may wish to own several. Do you just assume that we're criminals because we might buy more than one kitchen knife or automobile? I hope not. The same is true of firearms. Innocent until proved guilty, remember, not the other way around.

Drug lords will get whatever they want, however they can, and despite the bleatings of the Bradys, CNN, MSNBC, CNBC, and too many politicians, this proposed regulation will do absolutely nothing to stop the drug lords. They already have fully-automatic AK-47's in large quantities. They don't need our civilian-grade Mini-14's when they already have that kind of hardware (aren't their full-auto AK-47'S already illegal anyway in this country? Why aren't they being arrested and prosecuted?).

Furthermore, the proposed regulation is actually illegal under US law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns, and personally I don't see the need for even that. The proposed regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Yes, I know you folks "have the power" and thus perhaps think we citizenry have no recourse. This is not true. Elections are coming up, and laws do matter. We expect you to follow the law, too, the same as we must. We're watching and will be voting accordingly in 2012.

Strike this down. It will not help our country one whit. It will only hinder the law-abiders.

Sincerely,

Terrell "Cowboy T" Prude', Jr.

I oppose the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

I am OPPOSED to the registration of ANY gun purchases and in particular long gun purchases. If the BATFE wishes to stop the illegal trafficking of guns to Mexico, they should join the American people in their efforts to secure the border. This would be the "win-win" situation. If the border were secured, it would slow or stop the flow of guns to Mexico, and the flow of illegal immigrants and drugs to the United States. The purpose is to stop the guns from getting to Mexico, not prosecuting the gunrunners after the fact, in my opinion.

The BATFE does not have the authority to start any form of gun registration period. This is a violation of the Second Amendment. The American gun owners are well aware of how the schemes work. First you start small in just a few states. Then you expand the registration to all states, and from there, registration of all guns. Once registered, the government could then start confiscation at their wishes.

The right to own a firearm without registration is what sets the United States apart from any other country in the world. This is one reason that our country is the most free country in the world as well. If we, the American people, allow bureaucrats to start registering and confiscating firearms, we'll wind up exactly like Australia. Look at what happened there when they banned all guns except certain types.

Please oppose this action. The wrong people are being blamed

Data released by WikiLeaks Feb. 13 fingers the Pentagon as being the main source of Narco-Firepower in Mexico, not gun show loopholes as alleged. See: Pentagon Fingered as a Source of Narco-Firepower in Mexico

Read the WikiLeaks Cable:

<http://www.wikileaks.ch/cable/2009/01/09MONTERREY14.html>

In addition, on Feb. 10, Stratfor Global Intelligence in its Security Weekly breaks down guns confiscated in Mexico tied to U.S. sources - and only 12% can be traced, according to the ATF to U.S. sources.

Any additional regulation will not stop the above referenced source of the weapons from ending up in criminal hands in Mexico.

I understand the ATF would, understandably, like to take strong steps to address drug-related violence in Mexico. I do not dispute that some firearms purchased along our southern bordered don't end up in Mexico. However, the drug dealer captured arms caches are primarily made up of weapons not even available for sale in the United States. The lawlessness in Mexico is driven by multi-billion dollar drug cartels with access to any and all types of arms on the international black markets. These cartels don't need to purchase weapons from the United States.

Stopping this violence is the responsibility the Mexican government. This is not the duty of the ATF. The Mexican government has failed to provide education, job opportunities, and security for its own citizens. It cannot enforce its own law within its own borders. In spite of strong anti-gun laws within its own borders, and funding from the United States to improve the Mexican police and army, the violence continues. The Mexican government seems ready to implode. The Mexican leadership is corrupt and a failure in serving its own people.

The Unites States government needs to mind its own business, and address the needs of its own citizens, which at this time in particular, are many.

The best solution of the President and Congress to properly fund securing our border with Mexico by physical means and the use of the National Guard or Armed Forces to enforce our law within our own territory

Registration of guns is not going to change any situation in Mexico or on the border. Very few of the weapons found in these disputes are of U.S. origin. Maybe the Mexican government should involve itself in the horrific situation it has allowed and probably encouraged. It is time to stop blaming America first.

There is no need for any more rules and regulations and laws concerning limiting the number of long guns purchased.

Wake up! If you don't want guns flowing into Mexico-- simply enforce the existing laws and stop the flow at the border.

This is just a sneaky way of getting around securing the border.

If we secured the border- I mean "really" --we wouldn't have the problem of drugs and invaders coming in from Mexico and guns going out of the country. Thanks,

Barbara,

Please find attached over 9600 individual comments in support of the issuance of the emergency rule governing the Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles, which was published on December 17, 2010 in the Federal Register (OMB Number 1140-NEW).

These 9,600 Americans used an online tool hosted that was hosted by Mayors Against Illegal Guns (<http://www.MayorsAgainstIllegalGuns.org/DrugCartelGuns>) to send these comments directly to Barbara Tyrell at ATF in support of the long gun rule.

These comments should already be in the online record at ATF, as they were submitted as individual comments between February 11, 2011, and February 14, 2011, directly to the Barbara.Terrell@atf.gov email address. Please let us know if you cannot locate these individual comments.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

I am sure that President Obama will address this problem of guns soon. Automatic weapons coming into our inner cities is widespread. Our young boys are killing each other daily. It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels. We knowingly contribute to exporting murder to Mexico. We are guilty. It's time to stop.

The NRA, or the National Assassins Association, has had a disastrous influence on death by guns in America. How much longer is the Second Amendment hysteria of the NRA membership and its threats of gang-voting against those who vote for any gun regulation going to continue to influence Congress?

30,000 Americans were killed and 70,000 were injured by guns in 2010. In the last 30 years, more Americans have died from guns than all the U.S. service men and women killed in all foreign wars combined.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.
