

Certification of Qualifying State Relief from Disabilities Program

This form is to be used by a State official to certify to the United States' Department of Justice, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (ATF) that it has established a qualifying mental health relief from firearms disabilities program that satisfies certain minimum criteria (identified below) under the NICS Improvement Amendments Act of 2007 (NIAA), Public Law (P.L.) 110-180, Section § 105, enacted January 8, 2008. This certification is required for States to be eligible for the grants authorized by the NIAA.¹ The certifying State official should attach all relevant materials demonstrating compliance with its certification and criteria, which may include statutes, administrative regulations, executive orders, written policies and/or procedures, program brochures, or other items pertinent to the certification.

Certification

As the authorized State official, I hereby certify that my State has satisfied each of the following minimum criteria to establish a Relief From Disabilities Program under the NIAA:	Check Appropriate Box
	Met	Not Met
1. State Law: The relief program has been established by State statute, or administrative regulation, or order pursuant to State law. List the legal citation(s) for the relief program:
2. Application: The relief program allows a person who has been formally adjudicated as a mental defective ² or committed involuntarily to a mental institution ³ to apply or petition for relief from Federal firearms prohibitions (disabilities) imposed under 18 United States Code (U.S.C.) §§ 922(d)(4) and (g)(4).
3. Lawful Authority: A State court, board, commission or other lawful authority (per State law) considers the applicant's petition for relief. The lawful authority may only consider applications for relief due to mental health adjudications or commitments that occurred in the applicant State.
4. Due Process: The petition for relief is considered by the lawful authority in accordance with principles of due process, as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. The applicant has the opportunity to submit his or her own evidence to the lawful authority considering the relief application; b. An independent decision maker—someone other than the individual who gathered the evidence for the lawful authority acting on the application—reviews the evidence; and c. A record of the matter is created and maintained for review.
5. Proper Record: In determining whether to grant relief, the lawful authority receives evidence concerning and considers the: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Circumstances regarding the firearms disabilities imposed by 18 U.S.C. § 922(g)(4); b. Applicant's record, which must include, at a minimum, the applicant's mental health and criminal history records; and c. Applicant's reputation, developed, at a minimum, through character witness statements, testimony, or other character evidence.
6. Proper Findings: In granting relief, the lawful authority issues findings that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. The applicant will not be likely to act in a manner dangerous to public safety; and b. Granting the relief will not be contrary to the public interest.
7. De Novo Judicial Review of a Denial: The State provides for de novo judicial review of relief application denials that includes the following principles: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. If relief is denied, the applicant may petition the State court of appropriate jurisdiction to review the denial, including the record of the denying court, board, commission or other lawful authority; b. In cases of denial by a lawful authority other than a State court, the reviewing court has discretion to receive additional evidence necessary to conduct an adequate review; and c. Judicial review is de novo in that the reviewing court may, but is not required to, give deference to the decision of the lawful authority that denied the application for relief.
8. Required Updates to State and Federal Records: Pursuant to Section 102(c) of the NIAA, the State official, on being made aware that the basis under which the record was made available does not apply, or no longer applies: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Updates, corrects, modifies, or removes the record from any database that the Federal or State government maintains and makes available to the National Instant Criminal Background Check System (NICS), consistent with the rules pertaining to the database; and b. Notifies the Attorney General that such basis no longer applies so that the system in which the record is maintained is kept up to date.
9. Recommended Procedure: It is recommended (not required) that the State has written procedure (e.g., State law, regulation, or administrative order) to address the updated requirements.
